GOALS & OBJECTIVES

1. To provide shelter facilities for the refugees of Syria and Rohingyas.
2. To save the calamity affected communities of Indonesia from the hardships of weather.
3. To lower the sufferings of the most vulnerable sections of the society in Cambodia.

Many families across the globe are suffering homelessness because of poverty, natural & man-made disasters, etc. resulting in displacement. Based on our resources, capacity, and reach, HHRD endeavors to gift reasonable shelter homes to the most vulnerable, like widows, orphans, elderly, refugees, and calamity stricken. In 2019, HHRD provided homes to Syrian & Rohingya Refugees; natural disaster hit populations in Indonesia; and poverty-stricken families in Cambodia.
More than 4.5 million Syrians have fled their country since the civil war began in March of 2011. These microhomes provide a safe and stable residence for people who had to flee their homes, schools, and livelihoods. Stable living conditions are vital for their overall health and well-being. These microhomes are of great value to beneficiaries because they are a significant improvement in their lives, replacing the bare minimum tents they used for shelter after losing everything in their own countries.
